

Covid Policy 2022 - Updated May 5, 2022

After careful consideration, the Vail Jazz Festival will no longer require that concert goers show proof of COVID-19 vaccination before entering any ticketed events. At this time, the Covid risk level in Eagle County is categorized as Low from the CDC, and this change remains in compliance with state and local guidelines.

Facial coverings at all performance venues remain optional. All individuals, whether they choose to wear a face covering or not, will be welcomed and respected.

The health and safety of our guests is our top priority. If you are sick, remain home. We will continue to monitor all State of Colorado and Eagle County guidelines and may update our policy if needed. We will notify you of any changes.

Thank you for standing by Vail Jazz as we maintain a safe environment to produce high quality live music presentations during the pandemic.
